Scheme Notes for Applicants

2019 Competition

PLEASE READ THESE SCHEME NOTES CAREFULLY

ANY APPLICATION INCORRECTLY SUBMITTED WILL NOT BE ELIGIBLE FOR AWARD

Applications should be submitted well in advance of the deadline; we recommend at least five days prior to allow for institutional approval.

Summary

1. The British Academy is launching a new, competitive funding call focused on youth futures, as part of the £1.5 billion Global Challenges Research Fund \(GCRF\). This programme will fund excellent, policy-oriented research, aimed at addressing the UN's 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and advancing the UK's Aid Strategy. In particular, it will fund interdisciplinary research in the humanities and social sciences that will help to inform understanding, shape perception and provide evidence on the challenges and opportunities faced in developing countries. The programme is fundamentally youth-based with all awards required to involve and integrate young people into their research directly or indirectly from the outset.
2. Awards of up to £300,000 (offered at 100% FEC) and for 21 months in duration are available. Principal Investigators must be based in the UK, however equitable international collaboration is required to be detailed in any application. We particularly encourage collaboration with institutions and partners in the Global South and expect to see applications demonstrate fully how researchers from the Global South will be involved as equal partners in the research proposed. The Academy intends, when announcing awards under this Programme, to list the named Principal Investigator and all Co-Applicants with their institutional affiliation as the successful research team.
3. Applications must be submitted by Wednesday 4 December 2019 (17.00 UK time). It is advised that applicants submit at least five days prior to this deadline.

Programme Aims and Context

4. This call for proposals provides an opportunity for researchers in the humanities and social sciences to undertake projects to deliver research excellence with development impact (including interrogation of what that might mean), to further our understanding of youth futures. Research may be problem-focused, creatively innovative and exploratory, and should bring together diverse disciplines, where appropriate, for maximum impact/effect. We require all applications to fundamentally involve and integrate young people. This could in part, for example, take the form of a youth advisory panel.
5. Around half of all young people in the world are unemployed or underemployed, and this situation is likely to get worse. The World Bank estimates that 1 billion young people will enter the labour market in the next 10 years, with only 400 million of them likely to find jobs in the formal economy. The potential demographic dividend of boosted economic growth from a growing youth population remains high yet the way to achieve it is unclear, because of contextual specificities, young people's own desires, and policy deficits. Nine tenths of today's 1.8 billion young people live in developing countries, experiencing precarious forms of livelihood associated with low pay and few worker rights, especially among women and those with low educational attainment. This reality of getting by through various ways of working involving self-initiative and paid work requires better understanding in order to formulate policy directions beyond the traditional binaries of supply and demand, formal and informal, self-employment, employment and unemployment, and paid and unpaid work.
6. The aim of this Programme is to encourage new conceptual explorations, genuine interdisciplinarity, collaborative work that extends beyond the standard research model, and policy thinking based on close understanding of, and working with, young people at various stages of 'getting by'.

7. The Academy expects the awards made through the Programme to:
 - Provide new understandings of youth expectations and youth involvement in work that are broader and more nuanced than current thinking and interventions;
 - Identify the contributions young people make and could make to policy development and their perspectives on how to build purposeful lives;
 - Develop ways of collaborating in cross-disciplinary ways, and in partnership with young people and local partners;
 - Link research and evidence involving and driven by young people with policymakers to shape future interventions and approaches.
8. The Academy is keen for the research to cross disciplinary boundaries so as to explore the relevance of the historical and cultural context shaping young people's futures, through consideration of grounded legacies, social practices, values and norms, and affective and aesthetic orientations. In addition, the Academy is keen to support novel and creative ways of working attuned to the need to work with young people in the design, methods and outputs of the research undertaken. In particular, the Academy is keen to encourage applications led from the humanities.

Scope of the Call

9. In summary, projects must demonstrate an innovative and interdisciplinary approach yielding new conceptual understandings, developing ground-breaking research and energising innovative collaborations with young people.
10. The Academy encourages applications that will address one or more of the three sub-themes below so as to bring a much-needed youth-led perspective on the multiple sustainable development challenges we face:
 - a) Creativity: Understanding youth creativity and flexibility to identify imaginative solutions in developing countries that are effective and foster a sense of ownership by young people. The scope can be wide, but could include attention to how to amplify the voice of young people locally, nationally and globally; how to foster intergenerational and institutional trust; how to develop new approaches to the green and low waste economy at a local level; the pathways that young people take and how policies affect them including the gap between policy, communities of interest, collective action and practice; how young people experience, and have experienced, change; or how to identify imaginative solutions to mitigate climate change.
 - b) Categories: The UN's 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development states that people who are vulnerable, such as young people, must be empowered. Youth populations experience a combination of lack of economic opportunities (especially when combined with educational attainment, and concomitant expectations), lack of political voice and a sense of relative deprivation. The Academy would like to support projects that bring young people into the process of determining and setting the categorisations and concepts by which they view themselves and others, and how these foster their motivations, actions and aspirations. For example, this could include reconceptualising terms such as informality, inequality, mobility, resilience, identity, class, vulnerability and precarity from a youth perspective.
 - c) Livelihood & Work: The meanings and manifestations of livelihood and work for and by young people in different settings on the ground are critical for our understanding of young people's ambitions and expectations. The Academy is keen to encourage applications that focus on the practices and narratives of youth livelihoods and work (including unpaid domestic work) and provide a voice for young people to express their own perspectives. The changing attitudes of young people towards livelihood and work, particularly in our changing environment, are vital for illustrating how young people are and will live their lives and how society as a whole can be developed to support and integrate effectively the next generation.

11. All applicants must ensure that structural inequalities are considered and addressed within the proposed research. Structural inequalities include those based on gender, age, disability, ethnicity, race, religion and spatial factors. Applicants should make a genuine effort to integrate adequate analysis of gender and other structural inequalities in their research design.
12. Projects supported under this call are expected to have a clear and significant role for relevant stakeholders in the countries that are the subject of the application. The participation of researchers in ODA-eligible countries is required.
13. The remit of the programme does not include primarily practice-based outputs such as in musical composition and performance, visual practice, creative writing, and film-making. These areas of research will be considered to fall within the British Academy's remit only when they form part of an integrated project of demonstrable critical or historical significance. This being said, the Academy is keen to encourage novel, creative and participatory methods to applications and this should not be seen as an encouragement to inhibit such creativity.

Equitable Partnerships

14. Partnerships are a key pillar of the GCRF strategy. UKRI has developed the following statement of expectation for research partnerships in consultation with researchers from East Africa. “Partnerships should be transparent and based on mutual respect. Partnerships should aim to have clearly articulated equitable distribution of resources, responsibilities, efforts and benefits. Partnerships should recognise different inputs, different interests and different desired outcomes and should ensure the ethical sharing and use of data which is responsive to the identified needs of society.”

ODA Eligibility Criteria

15. The Youth Futures Programme is supported under the Global Challenges Research Fund and therefore will fund only ODA-eligible projects. Only research that has a primary objective which is directly and primarily relevant to the problems of developing countries may be counted as ODA. We will require applicants to demonstrate that the proposal is ODA eligible. ODA eligibility is an essential criterion – projects will only be deemed eligible for funding if they can demonstrate that they satisfy ODA eligibility criteria.
16. The British Academy, with the other Global Challenges Research Fund delivery partners, have provided an additional ODA guidance document for applicants.

Research Methodology and Impact

17. Successful projects will be likely to employ a variety of research methods and will include a collaborative group of researchers across relevant disciplines in the humanities and social sciences. In all cases it is for the applicant to demonstrate the feasibility of their proposed research methodology. Applicants should also demonstrate the cost-effectiveness and sustainability of their proposed programme of research.

18. All proposals must include relevant plans for the appropriate communication and dissemination of findings. This should include how applicants will engage with young people, policymakers, practitioners and other target audiences. Applicants will be expected to engage with their target audience(s) from the outset and also to show how the research once completed will be disseminated to, and taken up by young people, policymakers and other target audiences.
19. The Academy is keen to encourage a range of creative outputs from the research supported. The Academy expects such creativity to come from applicants rather than to set out such outputs here. Nonetheless, research outputs could include peer reviewed work for academic publication, as well as more targeted briefings for policymakers and other targeted audiences. This may include but need not necessarily be limited to: publications in peer-reviewed open access journals; reports, policy briefs and other written outputs such as evidence summaries or online blogs specifically targeted to relevant policymakers or other non-academic audiences; and oral presentations at conferences and meetings with relevant stakeholders.
20. The Academy expects to see applications fully involving young people in the design and delivery of these outputs. This includes co-authorship with young people. An expected output of the research should include the empowering of young people.
21. The UK host institution is expected to adopt the principles, standards and good practice for public engagement with research set out in the Concordat for Engaging the Public with Research \(2010\) and subsequent amendments.

Research Ethics

22. Applicants must ensure the proposed research will be carried out to a high ethical standard. They must ensure that any potential ethical issues have been considered and explain how these will be addressed. The British Academy requires the research it funds to be conducted in an ethical manner including with regard to safeguarding.
23. The Academy expects due regard to be taken for the involvement and integration of young people in the proposed research with detailed plans provided for how this will be developed equitably. The Academy is looking for imaginative and collaborative applications with young people that stress a way of conducting research that is demonstrably non-extractive.
24. The UK host institution is responsible for ensuring that ethical issues relating to the research project are identified and brought to the attention of the relevant approval or regulatory body.
25. Ethical approval to undertake the research must be granted by the relevant authority before any work requiring approval begins. Wherever necessary, appropriate consent should be obtained from or on behalf of participants or others affected by the research.
26. Applicants will be asked to indicate whether their proposed research raises any special ethical issues, and whether their application has been approved by the institution's Research Ethics Committee or other relevant authority.

27. The UK host institution should meet the requirements of the Concordat to Support Research Integrity \(2012\) and subsequent amendments, and must have in place formal procedures for governing good research practice and for handling and reporting allegations of fraud or research misconduct.

Risk Management

28. Researchers funded under this programme may choose to undertake fieldwork in the course of the research project. We expect an assessment of any risks entailed within the research project to be outlined within the proposal. For example, risks associated with delivery of the research, financial management, and oversight/governance.
29. Research groups will be required to indicate if (and where) they intend to undertake research in the field. For countries/regions considered by the UK Government's Foreign and Commonwealth Office as a host nation of medium or high risk, the application will also require researchers to demonstrate that the PI (and the PI's host institution) understand the risk management implications and can monitor and manage the risks effectively. This should include, but not be limited to, any risks that researchers will encounter in an area of civil unrest, violence and/or crime. This aspect will be explicitly covered in the approval of any application by the appropriate authorities at the PI's host institution, to confirm that the duty of care responsibility rests with the host institution.

Eligibility to be the Principal Investigator, Co-Applicant, or participant on a project

30. Each research group will be led by a named Principal Investigator (PI). The PI is expected to direct the research and the management of the project and has responsibility for the overall project reporting requirements. The PI must be a researcher in a discipline within the humanities or social sciences, however PIs are welcome to involve researchers from disciplines outside of the humanities and social sciences to collaborate on the project, including as Co-Applicants. Principal Investigators must be based in the UK, however equitable international collaboration is required to be detailed in any application.
31. PIs may not hold more than one British Academy award of a comparable nature at any one time.
32. An individual cannot be the PI on more than one British Academy: Youth Futures Programme bid. Duplicate applications for the same purpose to more than one British Academy funding programme will not be accepted.
33. The PI will be expected to commit time to the project during the course of the award equivalent to at least four hours per week.
34. The PI must be of postdoctoral or above status, or have equivalent research experience. The PI must hold an established role in an eligible UK-based university or research institute. The PI's position must last at least the duration of the grant funded by the British Academy.
35. Collaboration between researchers is particularly encouraged between disciplines and between institutions where appropriate given the nature of this research programme, and applications may include named Co-Applicants who will also be actively assisting in the direction and management of at least parts of the project. Co-Applicants may be expected to be in a position to take over the leadership of the project in the event that the PI is unable to continue in the role.

36. We particularly encourage the involvement of Co-Applicants from the Global South and require to see applications which demonstrate fully how researchers from the Global South will be involved as equal partners in the research proposed.
37. Co-Applicants must also be of postdoctoral status or have other equivalent research experience and must hold an established role which will last at least the duration of the grant funded by the British Academy.
38. No individual may be a Co-Applicant on more than two projects (nor may a PI be additionally a Co-Applicant on more than one other project).
39. Projects may also include any number of specified 'Other Participants', who may, for example, be relevant stakeholders participating in networking or dissemination events, academic or policy advisors, practitioners, industry representatives, etc. The involvement of 'Other Participants' from the Global South (who may be researchers, practitioners, community activists, policymakers, business representatives or others involved in furthering our understanding of youth futures) is strongly encouraged.
40. There is no provision for any paid researcher under this programme to be a doctoral or other postgraduate student.
41. The UK host institution is expected to adopt the principles, standards and good practice for the management of research staff set out in the Concordat to Support the Career Development of Researchers \(2019\) and subsequent amendments. Research staff should be appointed on terms that are no less favourable than those of comparable posts in the host institution.

Duration, Value, and Payment of Funding

42. Projects must be of 21 months in duration, with a maximum value of £300,000. Regular reports, including interim and final reports, will be expected as part of the award. Any underspend must be refunded to the Academy.
43. All projects will begin on 20 March 2020.
44. Funding may be used to support:
 - a. the time of the PI and Co-Applicants
 - b. postdoctoral (or equivalent) research assistance
 - c. travel, fieldwork, and related expenses
 - d. networking costs, including travel to London to attend two events organised by the British Academy
 - e. university costs in hosting and supporting the project with award holders expected to base the division of spend on the Full Economic Costing basis at 100% (nonetheless, please note the stress on value for money in the assessment criteria and the ODA nature of this funding when calculating indirect and estates costs).
45. The following items are not currently eligible for funding:

- a. computer hardware including laptops, electronic notebooks, digital cameras, etc.
 - b. books and other permanent resources
 - c. the preparation of camera-ready copy, copy-editing, proof-reading, indexing, nor any other editorial task
 - d. subventions for direct production costs (printing, binding, distribution, marketing etc.)
 - e. costs of publication in electronic media
 - f. travel and maintenance expenses for purposes such as lecture tours or to write up the results of research.
46. The Principal Investigators must be prepared to commit to travelling to London to take part in two events organised by the British Academy in London during the course of the award – an induction event and a final event.
47. All grants will be paid to the employing institution of the PI, and not to the individual researchers involved. Institutions must be officially recognised by the British Academy prior to a proposal being submitted.

Selection Principles

48. All eligible proposals submitted in response to this call will be assessed by relevant British Academy peer reviewers and then considered by a final selection panel.
49. Applications will be assessed against the following criteria:
- a. The quality, significance, and originality of the proposal;
 - b. Evidence that the project is ODA-eligible. Only projects that demonstrate that they satisfy ODA eligibility criteria will be eligible for funding;
 - c. A demonstration of how the project will address the overarching aims of the programme and one or more of the three sub-themes;
 - d. The fundamental involvement and integration of young people throughout the entire proposed research project including design, methods, outputs and impact;
 - e. Evidence of how the project will bring together relevant interdisciplinary expertise in the humanities and social sciences, as well as more broadly if appropriate, to address the problem identified, and also how the project will involve researchers from developing countries;
 - f. The ability of the PI and Co-Applicants to deliver this kind of research project within budget and on time, based on their demonstrable track record to date. The feasibility of the proposal in terms of appropriate and robust methodology; and appropriate timing and plan of action;
 - g. The feasibility of appropriate plans to manage the project and disseminate findings to relevant audiences. All research funded will also have to demonstrate its potential to engage relevant experts and stakeholders (including policy makers and non-academic beneficiaries) in discussions of the research findings;
 - h. Value for money.

Application and Assessment Procedure

50. All applicants must register in the British Academy's online Flexi-Grant system to enable the processing and assessment of their application. All applications must be submitted in English.

51. All applications will be subject to an eligibility check undertaken by appropriate British Academy staff before being put forward for assessment, and applications that are not completed correctly and submitted on time will not be considered.
52. The deadline for submissions and UK host institutional approval is Wednesday 4 December 2019 at 17.00 (UK time). Applicants will not be allowed to make any changes to their applications or submit any additional information after the 4 December deadline.

Code of Practice

53. The British Academy has a Code of Practice for assessing applications, setting out the principles of equity, integrity and confidentiality governing the treatment of all applications for research support. The Code of Practice also covers Data Protection, the British Academy's ethics policy and the appeals procedure.
54. Feedback is not a feature of the British Academy's Youth Futures Programme and the Academy is, regrettably, unable to enter into correspondence regarding the decisions of the awarding committee, which are governed by the Code of Practice. Please note that by applying to this programme, applicants undertake to accept the terms under which applications are assessed.

Contact Details and Further Information

55. Please contact GCRF@thebritishacademy.ac.uk or call 020 7969 5220 for further information.

Application Information

Applications can only be submitted online using the British Academy Flexi-Grant® Grant Management System (GMS) via (<https://britishacademy.flexigrant.com/>). If you have not previously used the British Academy's Flexi-Grant® GMS and were not registered in the previous e-GAP system, please follow the registration process from the Flexi-Grant® homepage.

Applications cannot be submitted on paper or in any other format.

Before completing the online form, all applicants should check that they comply with the eligibility requirements and ensure all necessary information is presented in the application. These requirements are strictly adhered to, and applications without all the necessary information, or evidence to show the assessment criteria are met, will be rejected.

Registered approving organisations will be available in the search bar. If your organisation is not listed and is not affiliated with any organisations already in the system, then please contact us at GCRF@thebritishacademy.ac.uk to request the addition of the organisation.

The deadline for submissions and UK host organisation approval is 4 December 2019 (17.00 UK time). Applicants will not be allowed to make any changes to their applications or submit any additional information after the 4 December deadline.

When completing your application on the British Academy Flexi-Grant® GMS, it is recommended that you take particular note of the following points:

- Personal details: When registered in the British Academy Flexi-Grant® GMS, a user has the option to add or update personal information such as contact details, log-in details (including email address and password), interests, research and employment details, at any time. This represents a personal record of your account in the system and will help to populate the contact details in any application form you complete. It is useful if this information is kept up to date, but it is not essential to the progress of an application.
- Automatic log-out: You are strongly advised to save your work regularly to prevent accidental loss of information. In particular, you should be aware that if the system does not detect any activity for 1 hour it will log out and save the application at that time. Please note that moving between pages within an application form will save the page that you are exiting but completing a field on a page is not considered an activity. It is recommended that you write the text for longer sections/fields in a word processor such as Word and then copy and paste into the relevant text box to avoid being timed out in this way.
- Multiple sessions: You should not have multiple browser windows/tabs of your application open at the same time as this may cause information to be lost. Only one user should edit an application at a time, otherwise changes might be lost.
- Word limits: When completing boxes that have a restricted length (note that it refers to words) you should note that if you exceed the specified amount you will not be able to save when you press the save button. You should type the text for the longer-length boxes in a word processor. You will then be able to check the word count and paste it into the British Academy Flexi-Grant® system. You will then still have a copy of the text to return to in the word processor. The word limit applies to text boxes.
- Plain text: If entering plain text, please avoid using symbols as some may not be accepted by the British Academy Flexi-Grant® system. You should generate and view a PDF of your application to check that the application appears as you want it to by clicking on 'print application'.

• Uploading PDF documents: Please note the only item you may upload is a copy of a CV. When uploading PDF documents, please add your name and a heading at the top of every page to show what the document is. Please avoid uploading documents containing illustrations with fine details or colour as this can cause problems when creating a PDF of the application. Please note we will only print your applications in black and white. Each PDF cannot exceed 2 pages in length or 3 Mb in size.

• Email addresses: The British Academy Flexi-Grant® GMS relies heavily on automatic email contact. It is essential that you ensure you enter accurate email addresses where requested as it may cause considerable delay in the submission/processing of your application if any of these are incorrect. You cannot make changes to email addresses after your application has been submitted for approval.

• Submission of application: You will not be able to submit your application until you have completed each section in full. You should submit your application for approval by a designated approver at your host organisation at least 5 working days before the closing date to allow for your host organisation's administrative procedures. Please note that the institutional approver is a person within the UK host organisation, usually within the central research support office, who has authority for approving all applications submitted to the British Academy. Please be aware that any co-applicants or other contributors will need to mark their sections as 'complete' before you will be able to submit your completed application form.

Once you have submitted your application for approval by your host UK organisation, automatic emails will be sent to your host UK organisation approver asking them to log on to the system. You will not be able to edit your application after it has been submitted to your host UK organisation for approval. The host UK organisation approver will either: approve and submit your application, 'send back' your application and contact you to request modifications (if before the 4 December deadline) or decline your application and contact you.

Please be aware that it is your responsibility to ensure that you complete your application in time for your host UK organisation to process it (including requesting changes) and provide their approval by the closing date. It is recommended that you allow at least five working days for this process, but please check with your proposed host UK institution as their internal timetables may require earlier submission.

If your host UK organisation approver requests modifications through the British Academy GMS email facility, they can unlock your application, allowing you to edit it. They can do this by selecting 'Return to Applicant'. An automatic e-mail will be sent to you alerting you of this fact. Once you have completed and saved the requested changes, please re-submit your application for approval by your host UK organisation.

Once your host UK organisation has approved your application and submitted it to the British Academy, it will not be possible to make any changes.

• Application sharing: All applications must be started by the applicant who is to be the Principal Investigator (PI) on the award. You can invite other contributors to join the application (e.g. Co-Applicant, Finance Office contact etc.), but in order to do so your contributor will need to be registered in the British Academy's Flexi-Grant® system first. You will need to ensure you have their registered email address to invite them to participate in your application. You can let other British Academy Flexi-Grant® GMS users view your draft application in advance of submission by providing their email address. They will be able to log in using their existing password and see your application and, depending on permissions, amend your application.

- Application deletion: You can delete your application at any time although it is often a lot easier just to re-edit your existing application. We will be able to recover a deleted application for a period of 7 days after deletion. After this, it will be permanently removed from the system.
- Application returned for editing: The approver can return your application to you for further editing before the closing deadline of the call. See ‘Submission of Application’ above.
- Guidance: In the tables below you will find in the left-hand column each question as set out in the application form and in the right-hand column useful guidance on its completion.
- Further clarification: If any of this advice is unclear, or if you need further information, please do not hesitate to seek clarification from the British Academy’s International Team (contact details at the end of these notes).

PLEASE NOTE THAT IT IS ESSENTIAL THAT YOU CREATE A PDF OF YOUR COMPLETED APPLICATION (by clicking ‘Print Application’), AND CHECK IT THOROUGHLY, INCLUDING EMAIL ADDRESSES AND UPLOADED PDF FILES, BEFORE SUBMITTING IT FOR APPROVAL BY YOUR UK HOST ORGANISATION. IT MAY NOT BE POSSIBLE TO RECTIFY MISTAKES IN TIME FOR THE DEADLINE.

WORD LIMITS APPLY TO PLAIN TEXT ONLY. PAGE LIMITS APPLY TO PDFs ONLY.

ALL FIELDS MARKED WITH AN ASTERISK* ARE MANDATORY.

YOU SHOULD NOT HAVE MULTIPLE BROWSER WINDOWS/TABS OF YOUR APPLICATION OPEN AT THE SAME TIME AS THIS MAY CAUSE INFORMATION TO BE LOST. ONLY ONE USER SHOULD EDIT AN APPLICATION AT A TIME, OTHERWISE CHANGES MIGHT BE LOST.

THE ACADEMY WILL ONLY PROCESS COMPLETE, SUBMITTED APPLICATIONS.

Submission of Application

Once you have submitted your application for approval by your host UK institution, automatic emails will be sent to your host UK organisation approver asking them to log on to the system. You will not be able to edit your application after it has been submitted to your host UK organisation for approval. The host UK organisation approver will either: approve and submit your application, 'send back' your application and contact you to request modifications (if before the 4 December deadline), or decline your application and contact you.

Please be aware that it is your responsibility to ensure that you complete your application in time for your UK host organisation to process it (including requesting changes) and provide their approval by the closing date. It is recommended that you allow at least five working days for this process, but please check with your proposed UK institution as their internal timetables may require earlier submission.

If your UK organisation approver requests modifications through the British Academy GMS email facility, they can unlock your application, allowing you to edit it. They can do this by selecting 'Return to Applicant'. An automatic e-mail will be sent to you alerting you of this fact. Once you have completed and saved the requested changes, please re-submit your application for approval by your UK organisation.

Once your UK host institution has approved your application and submitted it to the British Academy, it will not be possible to make any changes.

Please note that once the closing date has passed, UK organisation approvers cannot approve applications and submit them to the British Academy and unapproved applications are removed from consideration. No late applications will be accepted.

It is recommended that you check that your application is submitted in time. To see the details of the UK organisation approver and to check the status of your application, you should log into the British Academy GMS and click on the link to the Application Portal where a summary of your application will be displayed.

Outcome of Application

Once your application has been submitted, and if it has been approved, you will not be contacted again by the British Academy until the decisions have been made. You can track the progress of your application by logging in again to the Flexi-Grant system at any time. Results are issued by email.

Applicants in any doubt about their eligibility or any other aspect of their application under this call are advised to contact the British Academy's International Team:
